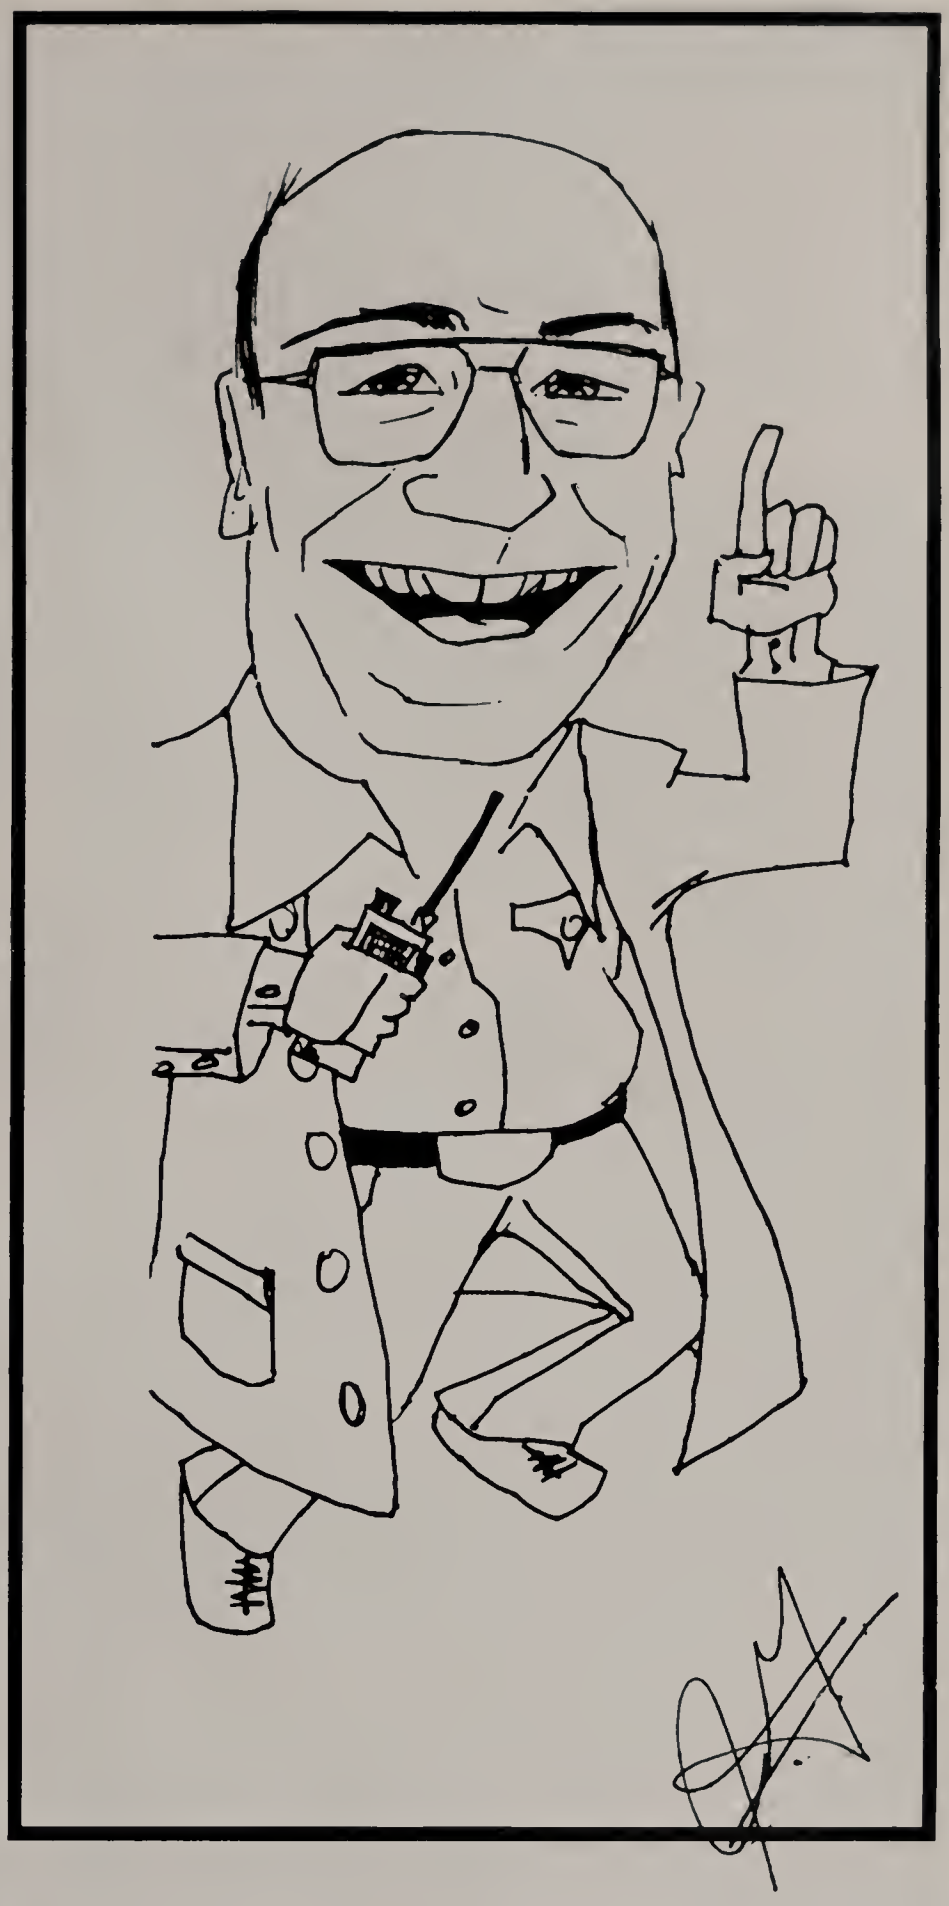
"This bare and bended arm... What are springs and waterfalls? Here is the spring of springs. The waterfalls of waterfalls. A storm in the fall or winter is the time to visit it; a lighthouse or a fisherman's hut the true hotel. A man may stand [here] and put all America behind him."

- Henry David Thoreau

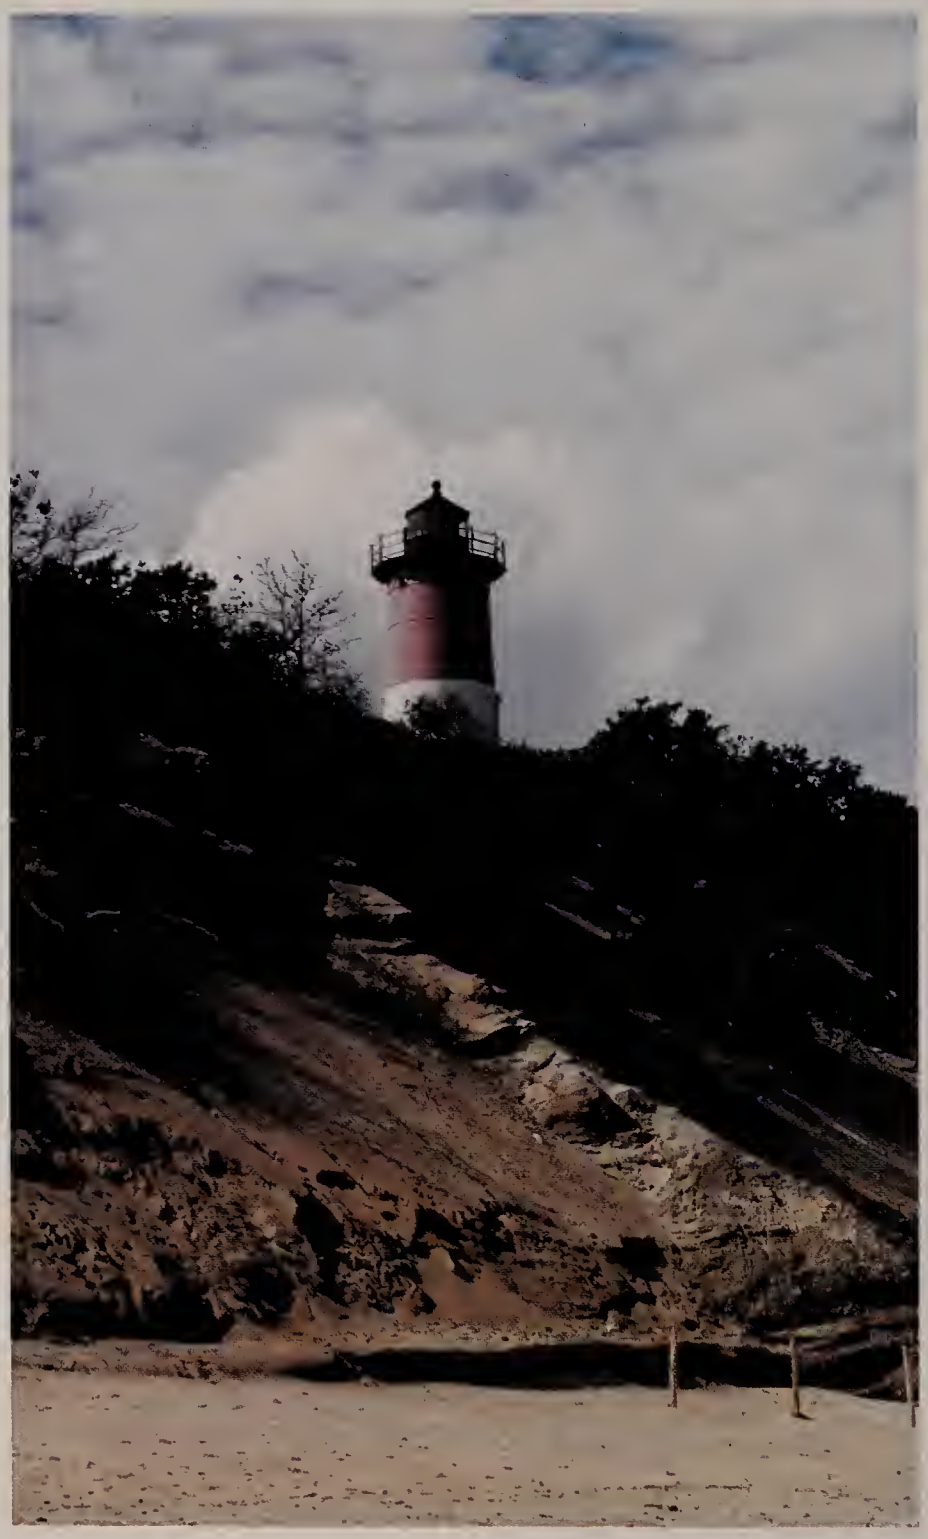
To Our Esteemed Leader...

Walking to your class each day, the one person you're sure to see, who's certainly visible even from behind his dark glasses is Dr. Paul Markovich. Doctor Markovich is a rock at Nauset, his ever present figure is reassuring to us all. "The Terminator", as Dr. Markovich has been affectionately dubbed, stands above us all, watching over us, protecting us. We dedicate this yearbook to him as our way of thanking him for his steadfast devotion to our school.



by Babette Deutsch

The color of silence is the oyster's color
Between the lustres of deep night and dawn.
Light - a mollusk of mist. Remote,
A sandspit hinges the valves
of the soft monster



...Alone wakeful, lanterns
Over a dark hull to eastward mark
The tough long pull, hidden, the killing
Work, hidden, to feed a hidden world...
This is the neap of the blood,
Of memory, thought desire; if pain visits
Such placelessness, it has phantom feet.

Nauset High School

Class of 1997

Class History

Entering Nauset as freshmen, our class had quite a reputation to live up to. We didn't have a "class history" yet, but stories about our sit-in at the Middle School preceded us. After the first few weeks of excitement, most of us realized that high school was just about the same as our first nine years of school-- hard work (for some) with greater rewards, or bigger consequences. Besides the normal freshmen-teasing by the upperclassmen, the traditional freshmen class loss at the pep rally, and the thirteen page packet about the history field trip to the Museum of Fine Arts, this year went by smoothly and uneventfully for us "young'uns."

We came back to school with our sun-burnt faces and new school clothes and happily assumed our new name of "Sophomores." We were only a year older than those "little freshmen" but in our minds it made a world of difference. No longer the target of the freshmen jokes, we began to make some of our own, picking on the kids only a year younger than ourselves. Although it wasn't particularly difficult academically, many of s have not-so- fond memories of trying to get through the "sophomore slump."

Most of us were just cruising along (literally, since most of us had just gotten our licenses), waiting to graduate hen "the year that colleges really look at" stopped us like a brick wall. All of a sudden, we realized that many of us had nly two more years to live at home and that college applications would soon be staring us in the face. We started the ear with the PSATs-- nothing to break a sweat over for the six who earned the title of "National Merit Scholar Semi- nalists" by their scores. As we endeavored to concentrate, and hear our teachers over the noise of construction, we were iven the assignment of our junior paper. After all the horror stories we had been told by our older siblings and friends, ll we wanted to do was throw those little "Junior Paper Assignment Books" off the Bourne Bridge. We all survived it with ery little harm, though, and went on to tell the younger students some (mostly fictitious) horror stories of our own. We at back and readied ourselves to simply enjoy the rest of our junior year, and did so until our guidance counselors eminded us of the registration deadlines for the SATs. Some of us thanked them politely (of course) and proceeded to gnore the looming deadline and pay an extra $30 for late registration. The SATs passed (with few casualities), and we atched the bittersweet graduation of many of our friends. The class of 1997 left the Nauset campus last June etermined to have a blast our last summer of high school.

As the September of our senior year came around, we realized that, for most of us, schedules this year wouldn't be lled up with Arts and Crafts or Senior Privilege as we had sometimes hoped, but instead with classes like American olitics and Diplomacy and Multi-Cultural Literature or Advanced Placement English. The stacks of college applications itting on our desks looked almost tall enough to rival the pile of school books beside them.

There is a feeling of unity in the student body at Nauset, and as each class graduates, we see onds stretched to their limits, but not broken. Together with our classmates at Nauset we have urvived the tests, the papers, the teachers and (worst of all) the underclassmen, and have ome out of it with a feeling of closeness that you can't find at every high school. As we prepare or our upcoming graduation, participate in a little freshmen-teasing, and try to avoid "Senioritis," e are writing the last chapter of a story we started as wide-eyed freshmen. It is a story that ill be called a comedy by some and a horror story by others. For some it has been a romance, nd for others a tear-jerker. For most of us, our years at Nauset have made us who we are, nd are years that we will never forget.

"Nauset, the air that I breathed, the history that I lived. Los quiero!!!"

On loan from Mexico 2 the USA. I had a good time. U taught me 2 of the most important things in life: 2 B brave; I found wonderful people that I'll never 4get. I guess I'll be homesick in Mexico missing U. Every day has been different for me; every day I met someone awesome... every single day had the possibility of being a great day. Dream about tomorrow. Have faith. Everything is possible if U r confident. Just live with the feeling 2 B better & make a great future 4 yourself. Only U have the key that opens and closes your destiny. Life is waiting for U. Just live it.

"...one flew East, one flew West, We flew over the cuckoo's nest."
-children's folk rhyme

A boat, beneath a sunny sky
Lingering onward dreamily
In an evening of July
Children three that nestle near,
Eager eye and willing ear,
Pleased a simple tale to hear-
Long as paled that sunny sky:
Echoes fade and memories die:
Autumn frosts have slain July.
Still she haunts me, phantomwise
Alice moving under skies
Never seen by waking eyes
Children yet, the tale no hear
Eager eye and willing ear
Lovingly shall nestle near
In a Wonderland they lie,
Dreaming as the days go by
Dreaming as the summers die:
Ever drifting down the stream
Lingering in the golden gleam
Life, What is it but a dream?

Homecoming Games

It was a cold October evening when Nauset took the field for our annual Homecoming Games. There were tables filled with food of all kinds: pizza, burgers, candy, hot chocolate and pasta. Everyone was there eating, laughing and cheering on our teams. Nauset's boys soccer team came out tied to their rivals from Duxbury. Our talented field hockey team beat their Duxbury competition. During all the games, the cheerleaders led us in triumphant cheers of pride for our school.

Right before the boys' soccer game, the Nauset crowd listened with anticipation as the Homecoming Court was announced. This year there was a tie for queen and our king: Neal Ahern got the chance to escort two queens on his arms: Megan O'Day and Jamie Demitri. Congratulations!

A Knight to Remember

A night to remember for everyone, especially the seniors, the homecoming dance was an evening filled with "Medieval Magic." Everyone was dressed to kill as they walked through the gym doors and stepped into a world of mystery and myths. A radiant chandelier of balloons and twinkling lights shone down on the dance floor. The knights in shining armor stood against the walls, as if to protect us from the unknown. The beautiful decorations helped to make the night more memorable.

As it got closer to the end of the last homecoming for some, all the chaos, shopping, and money spent finally seemed worthwhile. For the seniors, this would be the most memorable of all homecomings. For the others, there will be more to come.

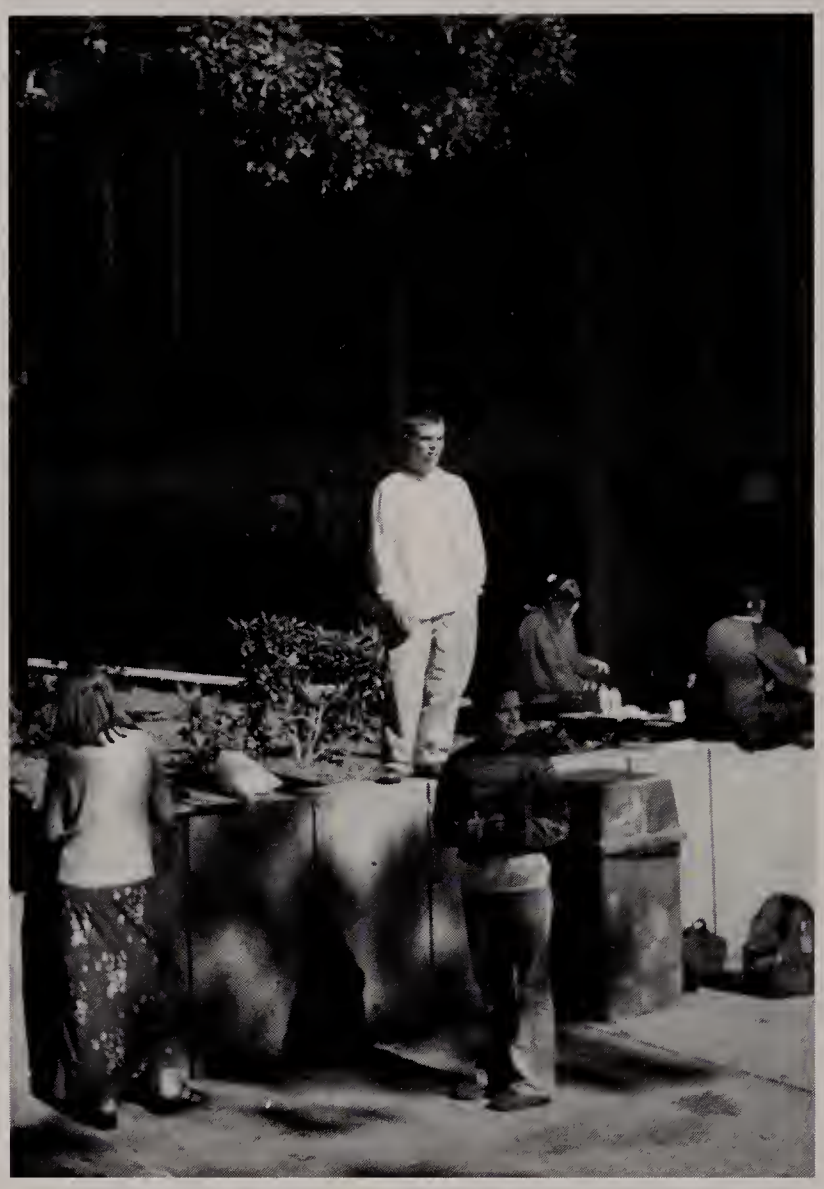
Campus Life



The beginning of September the last place you want to be is at school; the weather's gorgeous, the tourists are gone, it's the perfect time to hit the beach. Instead your in class listening to the lectures and filling out information forms. Then when you're beginning to get used to the idea of waking up at 6:00 a.m., it begins to snow. Our campus transforms into a Winter Wonderland, with snow lined, ice covered concrete walkways. Getting to class becomes an obstacle course, gusty winds, snow balls, and staying on two feet becomes the goal for the day. After four cold months, when you think you can stand no more, the sun returns. The snow melts, the thermometer hits 70 degrees, and the cherry trees begin to blossom. School days get better and the countdown's begun. The days are filled with outdoor classes, outdoor lunches, and better moods. You spend a little more time outside between class and your not thinking about school. Finally it comes, no, not vacation, finals. The last and hottest week in June, when all you want is summer and all you get is 12 page essays and those books you never read to memorize. It's a cruel joke but finally after your 8th test and 17th breakdown, it's over. Two months of freedom, nothing but beach, sun , and fun. (plus that 8 hour day at your summer job, and millions of tourists). In the back of your mind, you know that in just a short time you'll be back at Nauset, and it will all begin again.

Foreign Exchange Students

Monica Herrera

Once upon a time, there were 4 exchange students that came a year ago to Nauset to experience a whole new way of life. We all had left our families and friends to start our life with new people. No one knew us when we came here, but we were 4 girls: Monica from Mexico, Babsi from Germany, Monika from Czech Republic and Pernille from Norway.

School started and we all got into things fast, with a little help from a lot of nice people. We all experienced how hard it was to be an exchange student, but we still had a really nice time. Friends of all of us have to know that we could never have made it with out them. We learned a lot. This experience will be with us always, reminding us what we can achieve (if we really really have to!!)

We were always busy either with drama, dance, chorus, sports, friends, parties, and, in our spare time, we did homework. School has been a challenge, but we have survived. Thanks to all of our teachers for showing patience and understanding. A very special thanks to Mr. Wood. It is impossible to forget the way you helped us through everything. We appreciate the way you always cheered us up, with things like breakfast, pizza dinners, lollipops, always being happy and always being there for us.

Also, we want to thank our host families for being like real families for all of us....You gave us a lot of memories, which we will never forget.

!ADIOS!, NASCHLE!, HADE BRA!, and TSCHUESS!!

"Ich liebe dich!"

Barry Viprino, Laura Fedge, Lauren Audette, Katie Sheptyck, Becky Knowles, Kristin Binowski, Danielle Taylor, Justin Georges, Kirsten Wood, Amy Berrio, Meghan Emens, Megan Laverty, Katie Butcher, Nick deRuyder

We began this trip as fifteen individuals and ended as fifteen close friends. Our trip started with the shock of a new language (which few of us had any knowledge of) and Karneval, five days of parades, parties and excitement. The whirlwind of excitement died down, and things returned to the normal German life. We took highly educational adventures in the nearby cities and managed to find a Pizza Hut in each one. In the middle of our second week the Americans piled onto a train and headed to Bavaria for our tour of three German cities. In Nurenburg, Munchen and Heidleburg we visited a large array of beautiful castles, cathedrals, palaces and areas dating back to the Middle Ages. We had a fantastic time, but missed our lives in Duren (our "home" town) and our German friends. The last week passed too quickly in a blur of last get-to-gethers, field trips and discos. As we left our new found friends and the many experiences we had with them, we knew that Germany would have a spot in our memories forever.

The game of the Year:

The gymnasium rumbled with stamping feet, and the screams of people filled the air as the teachers came walking out of the locker room with their uniforms on. Then all was quiet and an even louder noise arose as the students came running out of their locker room. The student-faculty basketball game was off to an exciting start. The highlight of the game by far, though, had to be the cheerleaders. With Hep, Ms. King, Mrs. Greenway, Ms.Potoff (alias Lulu), Mr. Keough, Mrs. Mountain and Senor Wood, they led the crowd,not only in cheers, but in fashion and laughter. For a first time event, the freshmen class certainly scored big with this fundraiser!

Hey Matt and Dale,

I'm gonna be sad when you guys go to college. Matt, you won't be here with your awesome truck to take me just for a ride. I'll have no one to spy on. (He He) Dale, you've been the best! You never hit me or were mean to me. Well almost never. (ha ha) You came into my life and you mean alot to me. Not many people are as lucky as me. To have you in my family is a pleasure. You were the guys who I looked up to. So Matt, Ratboy, DORK, and you Dale, Snackboy, I love you! You guys are the best. You did it, you survived living with me. I wish you luck. Graduate for me!!

XOXOXOXOXOXOXO

Kimmi-Remember as you take this next step in your life, to always reach for your star from the heavens. Don't settle for less ever! I want you to know how very proud of you I am: from the sweet, caring, gentle little girl to the wonderful young woman you have become. All my love always angel.

Love,
MOM

Congratulations Sarah! We are so proud of all your efforts, at Proctor and at Nauset. Your Love and Smile have brightened our lives. You are a very special person to us. Good Luck! We'll always be there for you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Tyler

To Rachel,
If you think as well of yourself as everyone does of you, you will hold your head high wherever you go from here. To us you are everything a daughter could be, and we are proud of the independent person you have become.

Count on us always, and remember, "All roads lead to home," (or something like that). Well, we're speaking of the heart anyway, and you have permanent residence in ours.

We love you, Booboo!

To Dustin, On His Graduation:

Fear not, Oh brother of mine,
Although this opportunity is so sublime;
I will not roast you, for friends to laugh,
I will only speak on your behalf.

Your secrets are safe, my lips are sealed.
Embarrassing tales will not be revealed.
I will not make fun (it wouldn't be right),
Of the dress you once donned on Halloween Night.

Although I'd love to see your face red,
I won't mention the rock dropped on your head.
I'll keep it between us, just 'cause I'm nice;
That you trod on Long Pond and fell through the ice.

The thought of you as a kid still lingers,
But in every memory, you're sucking your fingers!
I'll speak no ill, it would be in poor taste,
Quite like the seaweed you ate, staying straight-faced.

Fear not, Oh brother of mine,
I'll expoud on your qualities, those that are fine.
Your future is bright, no need for alarm;
You'll go the distance with your humor and charm.

Wise beyond your years, your success is secured.
Your compassion has deepened as you've matured.
Responsible and bright, nothing stands in your way.
We'll be proudest at your Graduation Day.

Remember Commencement means "beginning", not "end"
Good Luck to you, brother Dustin, or should I say, Friend.

We love you, kid!!
6-15-97

Michelle-As this chapter of your life closes, your future lies just ahead... The Journey you are about to engage will be filled with excitement and challenges; and we are confident you will accomplish success. Always remember to be true to yourself...for this is the foundation for living your dreams and achieving your goals. We are very proud of you & we love you...

To Jonah,

How blessed is the man who finds wisdom,
And the man who gains understanding. Proverbs 3:13

Never lose sight of what is most important in life, a relationship with J. C. Do your best, have some fun on the way, and remember our love and prayers are with you always.

You're the Best! We love you!
Mom, Dad, Rebecca, Joshua, and Sarah

Amy,

Your journey, thus far, has been filled with courage, determination and kindness. You possess grace and dignity that provide endless joy to me. Your shining spirit is an inspiration. You will always be in my heart.

I love you,

Mom

Matt, We remember the day you were born and the unbelievable joy we felt. You drew a tough spot in the family, and it made you stronger for it. With awe and gratitude we have watched you as you've grown. You have kept us on our toes, it's true. But in ways that seemed impossible for one your age, you have "been there" for us when needed. Everyday with you has been a gift to us. So fast you have grown, and are now ready to try out your wings. Use each day of your future becoming more fully aware of that unique creature that God has planned for you to be. We love you, Mom and Dad

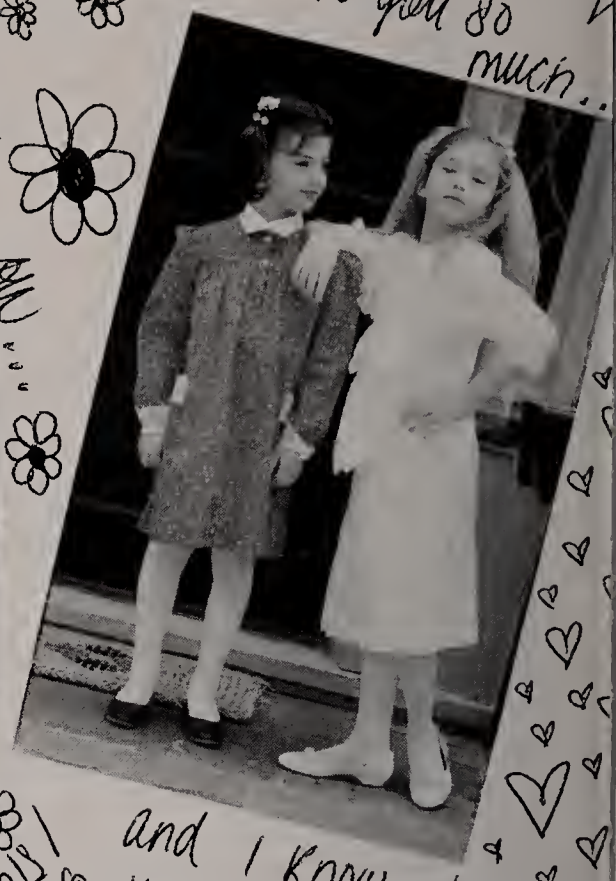
Dale,
Our job, in raising children, was to lay a foundation upon which a character could be built. You will change and grow your whole life. We hope you will recognize and nurture those qualities that are worthy of you such as faith, compassion, honesty and love. Our hope is that these past six years will help to guide the way into your future.

Love, Jeanne and Michael

To my sweet Melanie,

I'll always be here for you...

Me and mommy love you so much...



We've always been best friends and I know we always will be. I missed you so much this year, doing girlie things... and even getting into fights! and I know whatever you choose to do, you'll always be our little star!

Congratulations, Jessica!

A young woman stands forth today looking eagerly to many new beginnings. On the road toward maturity, honors coursework, learning to manage time, struggling with driving, writing and photography, preparations for a memorable art tour—all these, under uncompromising teachers and mentors, have help mold her. Past now are the first questions of identity, acceptability, and worth. The newly gained stability builds her courage to meet these same challenges again with deeper understanding and broader horizon.

We are proud of that young woman you have become. In your walk, may your faith, strength, and compassion continue to grow.
With our love and prayers,
Mom & Dad

Chris,
Congratulations!
Remember, happiness begins with facing life with a wink and a smile. Use each moment wisely, for it soon will pass away and be lost to you forever as part of yesterday.
Love,
Mom & Dad

Dear Justin,
You have always been our peacemaker and kept us smiling all the time. Good luck! We love you.

To dear Zach,

the bellows-mender-- Remeber those singular and curious times: your birthday scavenger hunt on Ridgeway where a piece of your 1st chess set mysteriously disappeared, forever, or for some future generation to unearth; the tornado on Crathie Lane-- moving the fallen tree with TV by the entrance to Bannockburn pool, all the wreckage; Jacob's visit, the Potomac; ice skating in Central Park; experiments in the lab with Elena those summers; Miss Greda--all your extraordinary teachers, DA, YH, RC, JM, KM--pick it up again some day-- I'd love to hear the Handel... even Happy Birthday; remember Keebler & the Latin verses learned with Mr. Hormone, sorry Harmon, in Bethesda? Showboat? Cats. My Georgetown; Dad's NIH;\you on stage at Kennedy Center & Wolf Trap. Your trumpet;the sound of it in the ravine. The sukkah you built; Rabbi Weller; your Bar; Camp Ramah. Geist, Orff - elia, Nicodemus & Babs. Sweet Italia. Siena il Palio; your friend Whitney administering to your Achilles cut. ET, (ZG call home). Halloween with Crew--remember how you guys met? I've loved all your friends... We need to go to Pompeii again one day. And Australia. Africa? Call your Bubbi now and again (she's 80 this year) she's marveled over you since you were born--and your Auntie Sara--don't forget Winnipeg & Toronto, Shika & Mary, your G-d-Dad and Aunt Helene. Auntie Di, Auntie Dolly, Uncle Ernie, Harry d'Horse. Heartiest Congratulations to you my sweetheart. I'm proud of you. You are the best. Much success to you and all your friends. Stephen says, "Come back & borrow the Jeep." Always keep your warm soul, and wit. And forever remember TO--"GO FOR IT MANNY!"--for he was absolutely crazy about you! I love you, your Claude/Mom

Anna,
You are Sunshine, Sassy, Beautiful and Bright
Delightfull, Funny, Loving - Just right. The Baby!!!

We are so very proud of you. What fun for us to watch our lovely daughter fulfill her dreams. Shoot for the moon, Anna. We pray for your happiness, good health and success, and you know that we will always be here for you - you are our precious gift. God Bless you, Anna.
Love, Mom, Paul, Dad and Jane

Congratulations, Oak!
Rock on!

As the year draws to a close, I sit back and reflect on things done, things undone, things that have gone awry and those with which we have experienced triumphs. I thank you all for the hard work and dedication you have shown in the creation of such a magnificent yearbook! Good luck and Much love in the years to come,
Judy Hamer

To my Yearbook class:

Sleepovers

Woo Ha!

Through the good times:

Car washes, sleepovers, games, van rides, bus rides, competitions (Bartlett, DP, C&I, STATES!), parades, camp, Spirit Awards,Queen of the Q's, and talks that I don't need to know anymore of....

To the not - so - good:

Michelle's ankle / wrist, Tanya's fiberglass, all the sickness and injuries, Hep's attempt to base, the cursed basketball season, and all the things that rubbing a little dirt in it just didn't fix....

I want you to know that I am very proud of what you have accomplished, where the squad has gone in the last three years. I will miss you; the ones the have been there since the biginning, and the cheerleaders just found. Cheer hard and don't be a goombah! Good luck my sweet peas! - HEP

As the editors of the 1996-97 yearbook, we have had very little time to "slack off" during our senior year. It seems as though an endless amount of time was spent in front of a computer, trying desperately to make all deadlines on time. The year started off on a hectic foot but we managed to get organized and with the help of our advisors, Ms. Hamer and Ms. Hepinstall, we produced one of the best yearbooks in Nauset's history. Thank you to everyone who helped us through all the computer problems, deadlines and general chaos that accompanied the making of the year's yearbook!

Thanks!
